Michigan Organizes Chapter

Bill Wood, Elder E. C. Banks, Dr. Harold Phillips, and Phil Wilson pose for pictures as officers of the Great Lakes Chapter.

Members Elect Phillips President; Others Named

With sounds of "Howdy Y'all" former faculty members, students, and graduates of Southern Missionary College gathered on the campus of Andrews University for the first alumni gathering in Michigan and the surrounding states.

Under the leadership of Elder Jamile Jacobs, a graduate of the class of 1951 who is on leave from Pakistan, and former members of the class of 1946, a potluck supper was planned. William H. Taylor was with the alumni to show pictures of SMC and to help out in the formation of an alumni chapter in Berrien Springs and vicinity.

One hundred and fifty persons showed up to share old times and to renew old friendships. Everyone was given the opportunity to introduce himself and to tell what class he graduated from and what he is presently doing. Among some of the former SMCites were members of Southern Junior College and one from the first graduating class of Southern Missionary College.

After the showing of pictures, officers for this chapter were elected. Dr. Harold Phillips, class of 1951 who is now teaching at Andrews, was elected president. Elder E. C. Banks, a graduate of SJC who is now teaching in the seminary, was elected vice-president. For secretary-treasurer Phillip Wilson, class of 1966 and who is now in the Seminary, was elected. Bill Wood, class of 1966 and who is in the graduate school, was chosen publicity secretary.

After the election of officers Dr. Banks had a short worship talk. With sounds of "Collegedale forever, Collegedale, we're true to you," the first alumni gathering closed. The new

Dr. Carl Jansen, '58 Receives Award

COLUMBIA, MO.—Dr. Carl Jansen, a resident physician in the department of radiology at the University of Missouri here, has been awarded a $14,000 James Picker Foundation advanced fellowship in academic radiology for his research studies in nuclear medicine.

Dr. Jansen is studying the application of neutron activation analysis in clinical medicine.

Upon completion of his three-year residency in radiology at the University Medical Center in June, Dr. Jansen will devote half-time to this research.

He received a B.A. degree in physics at Southern Missionary College, Collegedale, Tenn., and later spent a year in graduate study at Vanderbilt University under an Atomic Energy Commission health-physics fellowship. In 1963 he received his M.D. degree from Loma Linda University near San Bernadino, Calif.

Lt. McCutchen, '66 Joins Air University To Teach Officers

WICHITA FALLS, TEX. — Second Lieutenant Charles A. McCutchen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McCutchen of 1600 Cedar St., Hattiesburg, Miss., has been graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex., from the orientation course for U. S. Air Force nurses.

Lieutenant McCutchen, who studied specialized aerospace medical subjects and hospital administration, is being assigned to Maxwell AFB, Ala. He will join the Air University which conducts officer military education programs and provides more than 100 military correspondence courses for 365,000 students.

The lieutenant, a graduate of Highland Academy, Portland, Tenn., received a B.S. degree in nursing in 1966 from Southern Missionary College, Collegedale, Tenn.

Those Who Walked These Halls

The alumni editors are very anxious to get news of you and your family. This column is one of the best read that appears in the ALUMNI BULLETIN every issue, and we know that you are glad to read about your fellow classmates from years gone by. So send us news about yourself, where you are, what you are doing, how your family has grown, and any other pertinent items that we can use. Thanks for letting us know about you.

The second one has just completed her sophomore year at SMC, and their son is still at home. They have an orchid collection of over 500 specimens. One recently took first place at the county orchid show.

Mazie A. Herin, Associate Secretary of the Medical Department of the General Conference was in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, helping the director of the school of nursing get ready for government officials to inspect the school for accreditation. Also she visited the Montemorelos, Mexico school of nursing. She is the new owner of a piece of land near Fletcher, N. C., where she plans to retire in the distant future.

1941

Elsie Landon Buck recently received her Master of Music Education degree from Andrews University. She is currently employed as music teacher in the St. Joseph, Michigan, public schools.

1943

Jean Rebok Heinrich, with her husband and three children live in Sunnyvale, California. They have an eighty-bed convalescent hospital that keeps them very busy. Their oldest child, Denny is in the fifth grade, Debbie is a first grader, and Dave a pre-schooler. The childrens' grandfather, Elder D. E. Rebok lives close by. Elder Rebok was president of SMC 1942-43, and acting dean of SMC 1955-56. He is in his sixth year of teaching in a college preparatory school for boys, after retiring from denominational work.

1944

Charles and Betty Brooke Koudele and daughters, Kathy, 10 and Janie, 7 have moved into a new home with eight acres of land. Charles is a practicing physician in Dowagiac, Michigan, and Betty works a little as supervisory teacher at Andrews University. She writes, "We all keep busy with church work. Plan to move into a new church building this spring."

1950

For the R. C. Mizelles, the year 1966 was not one they would care to repeat. R. C. had an emergency appendectomy, Helen had surgery twice, and Dianne had a car accident. They are all fine again now and have moved into a new home in Cleveland, Tenn. Their oldest daughter graduates from SMC this summer.

1951

P. William Dysinger, M.D., attended the first meeting of the Public Health Association of Seventh-day Adventists in San Francisco in October. Bill was the chairman of the planning committee for the newly formed organization. Leaving this meeting he flew to Puerto Rico to attend a meeting of the American Society of Tropical Medicine. Bill is assistant professor of public health at Loma Linda University.

Challis Jennings Woolsey, wife of Raymond H. Woolsey, '51, editor of the Philippine Publishing House, was selected as one of the outstanding young women of America for 1965. This is recognition of her "outstanding ability, accomplishments and service to her community, country and profession." Her success story appears in the 1965 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America." She has a B.S. degree in nursing from CUC.

The Jamile Jacobs family have been at Andrews University while Jamile worked on a Masters in Religious Education. They plan to return to Pakistan this summer. On their way home last year they visited Bethlehem and other places in the Holy Land.

Elder Joe Reams writes from New Orleans:

"We have enjoyed receiving the ALUMNI BULLETIN in the past, but we seem to have lost contact with you for the past few months. We have been in New Orleans almost 2½ years now and enjoy this interesting city very much. I am the pastor of the Franklin Avenue church here.

"Our son, David, is married now and is living in Bowling Green, Ky., where he is taking his nurses training as a prerequisite to anesthesia which he plans to take at Madison next year. Our daughter, June, is a junior at Bass Memorial Academy."

Larry Hawkins, M.D., is at White Memorial Center in his second year as a general surgery resident. He is married and has a son two years old.

The following is an excerpt from a Christmas letter from Clifford and Betty Ludington, '41 and '54, in Banghazi, Libya: "Craig and Shelly are fascinated as well as we are by desert excursions and last February, a caravan of three VW's and two USA military vehicles made a trip down into the Sahara—a trip that will never be erased from our memories. How can one forget a camel caravan going along beside the sand sea of huge dunes, colorful outfits on the camel drivers in contrast to the beige of the dunes and the beautiful sky! How can one forget a village school held under colorful tents and the many students who looked upon us as being far more curious than we thought they were! How can we forget the village "doctor" with his charms around his neck, his black veil across his face, inspecting Clif's stethoscope as he tried to listen to his friends' hearts with this new magic! How can one forget the ancient wells operated by a camel, with the children doing the wash in the irrigation ditch."

The Ludingtons expect to be moved into their new hospital building by June.

Delvin E. Littell, M.D., still in the army is stationed at Fort Rucker, Alabama. Their home address is Bascom, Florida.

DEATHS

Harold Amadeus Miller was born Nov. 14, 1891, in Tonawanda, New York, and died Dec. 6, 1966, in Orlando, Florida. He was brought up in a musical atmosphere, his father being a music teacher. The family moved to Syracuse, New York, when he was in his teens. He was sent to South Lancaster Academy where he was baptized.

Prof. Miller held a B.Music degree from Otterbein College in Ohio and a M.Music degree from Eastman School of Music of Rochester University in New York. He also attended Princeton University's Westminster Choir School.

His first teaching position was in Mt. Vernon Academy where he remained for fourteen years. Later he taught at Washington Missionary College, Union College, and Pacific Union College. After thirty-seven years of service he retired at Southern Missionary College where the Fine Arts Building is named for him.

In addition to his busy schedule as teacher of piano, voice, theory, and director of choral organizations, he produced scores of sacred compositions. Ten of his hymns are in the Church Hymnal.

He leaves to mourn, his wife, one son, Dr. Harold Miller of Orlando,

1956

George Gager, '56, is presently living in Chunky, Mississippi. He is an associate publishing secretary of the Alabama-Mississippi Conference.

C. Cecil Abernathy is Director of Guidance at Lynwood Seventh-day Adventist Union School. He writes that they enjoy California very much, especially when there is no smog.

James C. Lynn is teaching science and math at Forest Lake Academy. The Lynns have three children.

Frank and Helen Hoover Burtnett now live in Greeneville, Tennessee, where Frank is credit manager of the Takoma Hospital.

LaDon W. Homer, M.D., is in his second year of a pathology residency at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Chester and Mary Jean Damron, '57 and '53 and Donnie and Debbie have spent their furlough at Andrews University. Chester is enjoying his new job in the Bible Department of our new Mount Klabat College, Djalan Komo 72, Menado, North Celebes, Indonesia. Chet writes: "The North Celebes, the area to which we are going, is a group of islands. Inter-island transportation is most uncertain and irregular. . . The seminary extension school of 1965 lasted six weeks but it took over five months for our national workers to travel to, attend, and return to their fields of labor. . . We now feel that a mission boat would solve the problem. We find that a boat can be built and equipped for as low as $10,000. A similar boat in the USA would cost up to $60,000." The Damrons arrived in their new field around the first of March.

Paul L. Allen, M.D., is a physician in Seattle, Washington. He and Anna Jean have two children, Lisa and David.

Vinson Bushnell passed his orals at Harvard University, Dec. 2. Now all he has left before receiving his doctorate in music is a dissertation. No defense of the dissertation is required. He is presently on leave from Walla Walla College. Since graduating from SMC, Vinson has married, has three children, received an M.A. from the University of Rochester (Eastman School of Music) and taught several years at Southwestern Union College, Keene, Texas.

Ronald A. Haupt, M.D., and F. L. Pichler, M.D., of Jacksonville, Florida, recently dedicated their new office to the service of God in bringing medical help to those in need. It was a quiet simple service with only a few special guests present. After the dedicatory prayer the doctors conducted a short tour through the new facility.

Irene Cross Kuist and husband, Bruce are the music department of the Far Eastern Academy in Singapore, Malaysia. The Division bought 5 new pianos for the department and remodeled 5 studios, some for practice. Irene also writes they have a Hammond organ in their chapel. Irene and Bruce have one daughter.

Robert G. Pierson was a recent visitor on campus and gave the mission talk at Sabbath School. He has taught for the last four and a half years at Solusi College in Africa. Bob is now doing graduate work in Education at Andrews University.

1959

Kenneth and Ann Cunningham Burke, '60 with their two children, Jerry and Sabrina are living in Goodlettsville, Tennessee, this year while Kenny works on his doctorate at Vanderbilt University. Ann writes: "We live in the country and Kenny travels back and forth to the University. He's a real farmer at heart. I'll become one perhaps."

Richard C. Kenfield, M.D., who was practicing medicine in California is now in the army and was sent to Viet Nam in January.

Donald A. and Janice Black Short, '61 and their three-year-old daughter, Susan are stationed in Rwanda, Africa. Their field is the largest in membership and the smallest in area of our world mission fields. Don is president of the field and has to be away from home much of the time. They have to grow all their vegetables of which there seems to be an abundance. They have problems with termites eating their houses. Don uses the Swahili and Runyarwanda languages. The Shorts expect to return on furlough this spring, and plan to be in Stone Mountain, Georgia, in June and spend a month with Janice's mother.

1960

Donald and Diane Crane are in Managua, Nicaragua. Donald is Educational, Home Missionary, Radio-TV, S.S., and Religious Liberty Secretary for the Nicaragua Mission.

Richard Larsen, M.D., is doing his second year residency in internal medicine at Loma Linda. He and his wife have a daughter Karen Elizabeth, born Nov. 2, 1965.

Thanks to someone for putting on the Alumni desk a copy of the Christmas Edition of the class letter of the nursing students of the class of 1960. From this the following was gleaned:

Mary Lou Lundquist Evers, husband Charles, and son flew to Chicago to pick up and drive home a 1934 Rolls Royce. To quote Mary Lou, "The first fifteen years the car was owned by a brewery—not a duke or a prince! So we seem to be going from bad to worse—the first Rolls we bought had been owned by a funeral home."

Helen Elliott Krall, her husband, and their three children are at Kingsway College in Oshawa, Ontario, where Jack is teaching. They spent last summer there and found there were a few days that one would wish for a "swimming hole" to cool off.

Barbara Beavers is in charge of female medical and pediatrics at MacDill Air Force Base Hospital in Florida. She is taking flying lessons and learning to play a guitar.

Kenneth M. Lake and family live in Longmont, Colorado. Ken is an anesthetist for the clinic in Longmont and Del is receptionist for an S.D.A. chiropractor.

Phyllis Finney Bame and her husband Don live in Orlando. They have two children, Cynthia Anne, less than a year old, and Mark, going on three.

Carol and George Pickle, '63 and two pre-school age sons live in Long Beach, California. Carol works four eight-hour shifts at the hospital and George is principal of the S.D.A. elementary school and also teaches grades 7 and 8. Last summer they spent in Orlando while George continued work on his masters degree.

Fred and Phyllis Moore Dickerhof are the parents of Michelle, 5 years old, and Michael, age 4. Phyllis is still working part time at the Florida Sanitarium.

Ruth Tyler Haas, Bob and Robbie moved to a new home in a subdivision on the edge of Lansing, Michigan. She writes, "We are tucked back off the street so that we don't see or hear much traffic, but are close enough to the stores so that we can walk when we are snowed in." Ruth nurses four days a week in a 20-bed men's unit.

SMC, Now 75 Years Old, Elects Three New Officers

Southern Missionary College, as such, is not 75 years old, but starting February 20, 1892, it began operation as an institution at Graysville, Tennessee. It is now in its 75th year as an institution and its 50th year as a liberal arts college, either two or four years.

To celebrate this important occasion, we feel that it would be most appropriate to have quite a few activities planned for the entire year. An honorary committee has been appointed to give suggestions on what ceremonies to have, what to do, whom to honor, etc.

The first event honored the pioneers at Graysville, who started the Graysville School. Dr. K. M. Kennedy, head of SMC's education department, was the speaker. Dr. Dewitt Bowen, SMC Alumni Association president, presented a plaque to the church commemorating the site of the founding.

There will be a working committee on campus to carry out these suggestions. The honorary committee consists of: Dr. Lynn H. Wood, co-chairman; Elder K. A. Wright, co-chairman; Elder Robert H. Pierson, Dean Walter B. Clark, Elder Ralph S. Watts.

Just as your ALUMNI BULLETIN went to press, the SMC Board of Trustees elected the following: Dr. Wilbert Schneider, president; Dr. Frank Knittel, academic dean; and Mr. Delmar Lovejoy, dean of student affairs.

Dr. Schneider comes to us from PUC, where he has been academic dean. He replaces Dr. C. N. Rees who suffered a stroke in November.

Dr. Knittel, vice-president of student affairs at Andrews University, replaces Dr. Cassell as academic dean. Dr. Cassell will fill the position of academic dean left vacant by Dr. Schneider at PUC.

Mr. Lovejoy will be the dean of student affairs, replacing Mr. Gordon Madgwick who is to be dean of student affairs at CUC. Mr. Lovejoy has been physical education instructor at SMC for the past two years.

Homecoming Plans Develop

The Difference At SMC

Dr. Wilbert M. Schneider, President
SOUTHERN MISSIONARY COLLEGE

Education without relevance and significance is virtually meaningless. Although defined by Ellen G. White as the harmonious development of hand, heart and mind, little thought is sometimes given to its full meaning, and the expression may, therefore, become a cliche as used to define Adventist Education. At Southern Missionary College "the difference" must continue to prevail if graduates are to develop a wholesome philosophy resulting in significant future service.

Secular education in general is preparing the student for a passport to an urban society but leaving untouched the question as to what kind of an individual the graduate ought to be. Providing for one's temporal needs must be considered a secondary motive in Adventist education. By our modern standards of education, Jesus would probably be unable to qualify for a high school diploma. Yet, it is a fact that no other man has ever had such peace or joy within himself nor such mastery over the problems of life. In contemplating the life of Christ, we are

President Schneider

Miss Mabel Wood Appointed Editor

Miss J. Mabel Wood, associate professor of music emeritus, has been appointed editor of the SMC Alumni Bulletin, according to Dr. Wilbert M. Schneider, SMC's president.

Miss Wood

Miss Wood, who holds a B.A. degree from Union College, Lincoln, Nebr., and the M.A. degree from the University of Nebraska, retired on June 1, from her full-time music-teaching career.

She has been working part time in the college relations office, which directs the affairs of the Alumni Association, for the past year. Previously, she has served several times as an Alumni officer.

Her duties will include correspondence with the alumni about news for the Bulletin, editing the Bulletin, and keeping the addresses up-to-date. Any correspondence about these items should be addressed to her.

Miss Wood is a graduate of Southern Junior College and has spent 40 years in denominational service, mainly in the field of music. Eighteen of her 40 years were at SMC. She has also taught at Southwestern Junior College and Union College.

Dr. Schneider said that "we welcome Miss Wood to this new duty on our staff, and we are happy that she can serve in this capacity."

WASHINGTON CHAPTER

The Washington, D.C., Chapter of SMC's Alumni Association met recently for a pot-luck supper followed by a business meeting. Recent slides showing the campus, its new buildings, and the buildings presently under construction, were shown.

SMC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Every member of the SMC Alumni Association is cordially invited to attend the Annual Homecoming that will be held on the Southern Missionary College campus the weekend of October 20 and 21. This Homecoming will celebrate SMC's 75th year as an institution.

Highlights of the program will be outstanding speakers from among denominational workers for the Friday night and Sabbath meetings and the Voice of Prophecy quartet for special music on Friday night and at the Sabbath church services. They will also give a concert on Sabbath afternoon.

The college is planning to have a Lyceum program on "Trekking the Tibetan Border" on Saturday night. Alumni will be guests of the college for this event.

Of course, the annual business meeting will be held immediately following the supper on Saturday night at which time the members will be college guests. For those of you who may have to bring your children on this trip, the Alumni Association will have a group to supervise them for supper and pictures during the Alumni supper and business meeting.

As you probably know, Southern Missionary College has finished its new administration building, and you will want to see it. It will be included on a tour of the campus on Sunday morning, conducted by Charles Fleming, Jr., SMC business manager.

You will notice a ballot on the back page of the BULLETIN this time, and we would appreciate your filling it out and mailing it soon. We need your ballots so that we can get a full representation of your wishes for these officers.

You'all come, and let's have a good time!
